SAVING THE MAN OF FORTY.

There is a pretty deep significance in the idea presented by Prof. W. T. Sedgwick before the life insurance presidents, that it is much more important for society to save the man of 40, the trained wealth-producer, than to save babies. The professor does not, of course, oppose or deprecate efforts to reduce infant mortality, but he favors and exalts such community experimentation as will prolong the period of efficiency in human life, after efficiency has been proven. If babies are kept from dying, it is manifest enough to the economist that a fairly large proportion of those saved are congenitally inefficient; that the interference with the law of the survival of the fittest, justified as it is by all humanitarians, has disadvantages as well as advantages. It may often do burden the future with incompetents to be supported or partly supported by the community or by individuals.

As Prof. Sedgwick says, the man of 40, skilled at his trade, a steady wage-earner, has passed the test of "survival of the fittest." He is one of the few who have survived. What can the community do to prolong his productive energy? Clearly, secure tenure of a job, adequate wages, fair hours and encouragement to use leisure intelligently must be considered. The need of quick and scientific attention to any sickness is likewise apparent. Ventilation in working rooms and in homes is important. Other details will suggest themselves to keen minds. The self-interest of the life insurance companies, enlisted to save the man of 40, may be of immense advantage to the human race.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Sneffels, Col. A. J. Walsh was badly done up with rheumatism and sent for Foley Kidney Pills which was the only thing that would cure him. Geo. Potter of Pontiac, Mo., was down on his back with kidney and bladder trouble and Foley Kidney Pills made him well and able to work. It is a splendid medicine and always helps. Just try it.
